Protests in Hollywood	■ Protesters Na) March in Los Angeles. Protesters gather in Hollywood where tourists visit. Many are Korean Americans.
Sign	Na) Sign says “Stop economic sanctions on DPRK” etc.
Protester originally from South Korea	■ Protester originally from South Korea 154055~154118 Having conversation is better chance. If there is nothing but nuclear weapon lean on, if ...leading NK, I cannot give a NUKE, because it does only one which keep me safe. From NK point of view, we are eliminating option, but looking having more military weapon because of sanction.
Report on a sign	Na) They say this is a protest for avoiding a war with DPRK and supporting reunification. ■ Takeuchi report 152140~56 Look at this. It says DPRK has the right to self-defense. It seems to justify nuclear armed North Korea. Na) Along with anti-war activists is a pro-DPRK group. Those people support DPRK and Kim Jong-Un regime.
Melee	Na) There was a bit of melee.

Anti-DPRK man )	Mei) What do you wanna say to them? Woman) Our country is free. I want free. I don't want Kim Jong Il. I don't want Kim Il Sung, I hate Kim Jong Un. ■ Young Man ON 154952 ~5020 I don't know why they support still Kim Jong Un regime. They want to keep Kim Jong Un regime. Kim jong Un as you know dictator. He is genocide criminal. So many NK people died because of starvation under dictator Kim Jong Un. We have to end Kim Jong Un regime to change it.
B-roll of protests Ms. Terry B-roll	155032~49 Mei) They are all Pro-NK? Young man) they are all pro-NK. More than pro-NK. Looks like NK spy. They have a order kind of that. So many Americans don't know about that. We know it. Na) The U.S. and DPRK seem to be moving towards dialogue and pro-DPRK people seem to be gaining momentum. Na) Ms. Sue Mi Terry, a former CIA analyst for the Korean Peninsula, finds this problematic.

Ms. Terry INTV	■ Sue Mi Terry ON 153906~3943 I do think it's a problem, because they are trying to impact US policy towards N. Korea. And they are even very pro-north leaning academics and I think that's also a problem, because they confuse with policy folks. I see it as more of a problem but I know that there are robust pro-north groups in the US. Q:Do you think they are controlled by N. Korean government? A:I think it's not uniform. I think some are influenced or controlled by the N. Korean government. CM ■

Mei) Ohhhh

Na) A PhD in politics from DPRK government

Na) This is a Kim Il Sung medal

The medal is awarded to those who contributed to the development of and dissemination of the thoughts of DPRK, given by the Supreme People's Assembly.

■ Takeuchi report

173356~3435

Mei) This is heavy. Very heavy right? Real gold?

Roh) I think so.

Mei) Very heavy. This is the award – it has a Kim Il Sung portrait.

■ Mr. Roh Kil nam ON

173227~3310

Roh) I didnt expect at all. When I got this award, Everybody I met in NK , DPRK people they surprised. Everybody surprised. I did my job, I did my job as a truth delivering journalist. That's all. Why they gave me.

173329~44

Mei) they highly evaluate you?

Roh) I think so. My position. I had to do. My job. Not for them. My job.

Na) Then what is the "truth" that Mr. Roh wants to tell. I asked him head-on.

■ Mr. Roh Kil-nam ON

NA) SOTU and special meetings

Na) There was a person who worked hard so that President Trump would raise DPRK's human rights issues.

Na) That is executive director Scarlatoiu of the Committee on Human Rights in North Korea, a Washington think tank.

■ Mr. Scarlatoiu ON

Q:Did you arrange it?

Scarlatiou) Yes

Q:When did it start?

Scarlatiou) It took us a few weeks of preparation. Of course, that said , I was just happy to assist.

131540~1608

There is no better way, there is no more effective way of delivering message other than the State of the Union address in here in the US. And I would hope the US president, President Trump, paying so much attention to the human rights situation in N. Korea, would encourage and inspire other world leaders to do the same.

Na) Mr. Scarlatoiu who is in touch with the White House sees this is how the diplomatic relations between the U.S. and DPRK may progress.

Mr. Scarlatoiu ON

132234~

This administration has clearly signaled its interest in the human rights and I believe human rights will not be left aside. It will be a comprehensive approach to

	N. Korea, not necessarily bundle of issues: nukes, missiles, human rights. This may be a two track approach, but human rights will not be abandoned.
